SYNOPSIS

Like a disoriented Ulysses, Marc doesn't know how to affront his live after finishing his career. The apathy and frustration make him finally accept a curious job in the touristic village where his grandmother lives. The relationship that grows between them and her sudden death will make Marc conscious about taking his own decisions. An intimist portrait of the journey towards maturity.

“Pere Vilà decided to challenge the market laws his first feature film “Rail road crossing” (...) If the script is good the only budget that you need is your will” PEP PRIETO, Diari de Girona

“The enthusiasm of Pere Vilà for making movies has brought him to start a project with only 30.000€ that hi doesn't dare to consider as a foolishness but as an encouraging insanity” IMMA MERINO, El Punt.
